Purpose of this School

LT is believed that many teachers now in service in Massachusetts realize their need of professional training. Every teacher, worthy the name, feels the need of such inspiration as comes from regular intensive study during some part of each year. To meet this need the State has appropriated money for the support of this summer session. Thus is inaugurated a movement for the improvement of teachers now at work in our schools. Here those who feel obliged to teach during the regular school year will have an opportunity to take work equal in value to that which is usually offered in normal schools. A teacher can attend this school for two or three summers, then secure a leave of absence for one year, spend this year at the Hyannis Normal School, return to her position, then attend the school for two more summers, thus completing her course.

The purpose of the instructors of this school will be to give regular systematic courses in such subjects and of such a character as will meet the needs of teachers now in service.

Character of the Work

The work will be like the regular work of the school year. The same amount of study, of lecture room and of laboratory time will be required in each subject.

Students may take one or more subjects, but the work must be intensive in each.

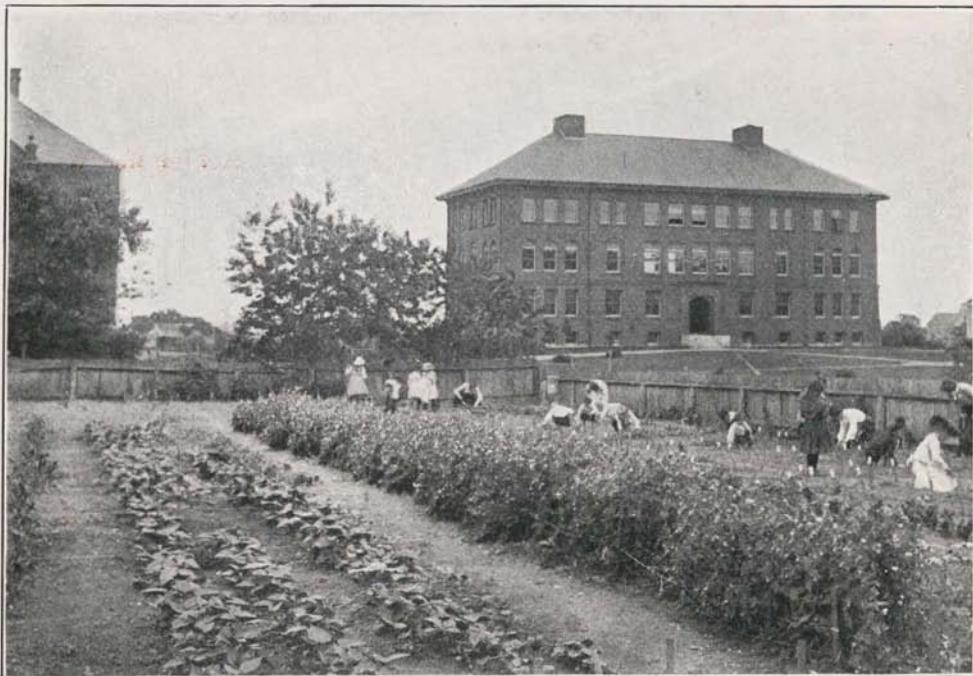

The work is so planned that it is not possible to take more than two subjects, and students are earnestly advised to take but one.

Credits Allowed

Due credits will be allowed for work which has been done in other normal schools or in colleges. Teachers in service may be allowed to offer their experience between the successive summer sessions in lieu of practice in the training school.

Diplomas Granted

Credit will be given for each subject that is satisfactorily completed. A diploma will be awarded when the amount of work done by the student is equal to that required in the regular course.

The time required for earning a diploma will depend upon the former preparation and upon the amount and character of work at this school.

Admission

Teachers of maturity, who have been in service for two or more years, and graduates of four years' courses in high schools, who have taught one year, will be admitted without examination.

Graduates of high schools, and teachers of less than the above required experience who desire to teach in the State, may be admitted without examination, but without entrance examinations cannot receive credit to count toward a diploma.

General Regulations

regarding Credits to be allowed Students from Other Normal Schools, Training Schools and Colleges

1 The matter of the granting of credits shall be in the hands of a special committee, consisting of the principal and two other members of the summer session faculty, subject to the approval of the Board of Visitors of the school.

SUMMER SESSION OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL AT HYANNIS

2 A student who has had one year or less of work in another State normal school shall receive full credit for the same, but the time needed to complete the course shall depend upon the character of the work done here.

3 A graduate of any State normal school outside of the State of Massachusetts shall be required to do the work of four summers before receiving a diploma, unless the character of the work done is particularly strong.

4 A candidate from a training school, whose past record is particularly strong and the character of whose work is exceptionally good, may be given such credit as seems just in the judgment of the special committee and the Board of Visitors.

5 A graduate of any college shall be required to take a full year's work, including the subjects of psychology, pedagogy and such typical subjects as may be deemed advisable by the special committee and the Board of Visitors, and to furnish evidence of at least three years of successful experience.

6 Due credit will be allowed for undergraduate work in any college.

7 Three years of properly certified, successful experience may be accepted in all cases in lieu of teaching in the training school.

List of Subjects and Instructors

Music—Edmund F. Sawyer, Instructor in Music, State Normal School, Hyannis, Mass.

Psychology—Mary E. Laing, formerly Instructor in Psychology, State Normal School, Oswego, N. Y.

English—Elizabeth H. Spalding, Instructor in English, Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Geography—Charles Peter Sinnott, Instructor in Geography, State Normal School, Bridgewater, Mass.

Arithmetic—Sara J. Walter, Principal Training School, Willimantic, Conn.

Drawing—F. L. Burnham, Supervisor of Drawing, New Haven, Conn.

Nature Study—Charles B. Scott, formerly Instructor in Biology, State Normal School, Oswego, N. Y.

Industrial Work—Theory, W. A. Baldwin, Principal State Normal School, Hyannis, Mass. Garden, weaving, cardboard work and correlation with regular subjects, Clara M. Wheeler, Principal of Primary Department, Hyannis Training School. Basketry, hammock making, cane seating, printing and similar subjects, Mabel M. Kimball, Supervisor of Industrial Work, Hyannis Training School.

General Lectures

Besides the regular work, general lectures will be given by lecturers of national reputation.

Courses offered

The work in music will include: (1) methods of teaching in the public schools; (2) a class for chorus singing (open to all members of the school); (3) a series of talks upon the origin and development of music; and a course of lessons in musical notation, intervals, three and four tone chords, rhythm and elementary form, including much practice in the writing of simple melodies.

The course in psychology will be adapted to both teachers and superintendents, and will furnish an intelligent basis for modern pedagogy. The course in geography will broaden the teacher's conception of the subject and introduce him to the modern method of presenting the same.

SUMMER SESSION OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL AT HYANNIS

The course in drawing is planned for the benefit of the regular teacher who feels the need of assistance and suggestion in the subject. Much individual work is given, however, and teachers of large experience in teaching drawing find the course very valuable.

In the course in English, an English classic will be studied with reference to its use in any class room; that is, with reference to the material it furnishes for class conversations or debates, subjects for themes and the making out of examination questions. The selected classic, with others, will be made the basis for a study of rhetoric and composition. This combination of critical work and original effort gives the student power to appreciate other pieces of literature and to utilize them in teaching. There will be a weekly conference of teacher and pupils, during which problems of the grades will be discussed, grammar receiving its share of attention, and ways and means of solving the problems will be suggested.

The arithmetic course includes discussions relating to the time, place and relative value of the subject of arithmetic in the school curriculum, also its relation to the industrial environment of the pupil. The aim is to so organize the instruction that it shall give the student the art of using numbers accurately and rapidly, and the ability to apply this art in solving the practical problems of every day life. The sole motive of the course as arranged is to encourage and promote the self-activity of the student, and thereby gain to the fullest extent his independent personal effort.

It seems desirable to have those who may contemplate joining the class in industrial work understand something of the purpose of this course. This purpose is not primarily for the sake of learning how to make a few baskets or a hammock; it is rather to help experienced teachers and superintendents to a fuller and deeper understanding of those pedagogical principles which are based upon the natural activities of the child, —principles which should guide the teacher in all lines of schoolwork, and which, if closely followed, will revolutionize much of the school management and teaching of the ordinary graded school.

In view of the foregoing facts, it becomes evident that a teacher taking any phase of the industrial work should give a large part of his attention to the professional side of the subject, and to the way in which the regular work of the school is correlated with this work.

Those who take the course in industrial work will have an opportunity to work with children in gardening, basketry, weaving, raffia work, hat making, netting, and similar lines of industrial training which are being introduced into some of the public schools, and to see how the regular school work is based upon this industrial work.

Situation of School

The school is situated in the village of Hyannis, seventy-nine miles from Boston. The Cape is here only about three miles across, and scarcely a breeze can come to us without traversing a broad expanse of water. It is much as though we were on an island forty miles long and from three to fifteen wide. This part of the Cape is well wooded with pine and oak forests, abounds in beautiful fresh-water lakes, and its shore is indented with fine bays; thus the scenery on land and water is varied and beautiful. The habitant of the city or inland town is delighted with the opportunities for seeing cranberry bogs, the clam digging, the bluefishing and kindred industries. He enjoys the bathing, the boating and fishing. If he prefers his wheel or a horse, he will find macadamized State roads for the first, and delightful, lonely, winding wood roads for the last.

Hyannis is on the Cape Cod division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. The train service throughout the summer season is excellent.

Hyannis is rapidly becoming a well-known summer resort, and Boston business men go back and forth daily on the train throughout the summer season.

The quaint old village of Yarmouth, only three and one-half miles across the Cape, is well worth a visit, and may be reached by train, by wheel, or by carriage.

Wequaquet Lake is situated at the foot of Shoot-flying Hill. It has a much-indented shore, about nine miles around, contains beautiful islands, and is much resorted to for fishing, boating and picnicking.

These are typical of other villages, lakes and resorts which are within easy reach of Hyannis. More distant points of interest are Provincetown, at one extreme end of the Cape, the part made famous by Thoreau's "Cape Cod;" Buzzard's Bay, the summer home of Grover Cleveland and Joseph Jefferson; Wood's Holl, the seat of the noted Marine Biological Laboratory and the aquarium of the United States Fish Commission; Plymouth, just across Cape Cod Bay; Nantucket, nearly due south across Vineyard Sound; and Martha's Vineyard to the southwest of us. Provincetown, Buzzard's Bay, Wood's Holl and Plymouth may be reached by rail; and one may also cross the Cape to Yarmouth, and thence sail to Provincetown and Plymouth. Excursions may be made by steamer directly to Nantucket, and by rail and steamer to Martha's Vineyard.

Expenses

Tuition will be free to all who live in the State or who signify their intention to teach in the State; to others, the nominal fee of $4 will be charged for the five weeks.

Use of books, and equipment of the school will be free.

Books, paper and laboratory materials will be furnished at cost.

Board and furnished room, with heat and light (no personal washing), two single beds in each room, at the dormitory, $5.50 for women and $5.75 for men. With only one person in a room, the rate will be $1 higher. Board without room, $4.50.

Other Information

Women are expected to care for their own rooms, unless special arrangements are made for the same. Each boarder at the dormitory is expected to bring sheets for single beds, pillow cases, towels, napkins, clothes bags and napkin ring. All clothing should be distinctly and indelibly marked with the owner's name.

Those desiring board at the dormitory should make arrangements at once, as the motto will be, "first come, first served." Others will be directed to places in the village on their arrival, and can then select such rooms as seem to them desirable.

Teachers from about Boston should be sure and secure round-trip tickets at excursion rates.

Excursion Rates

Round-trip tickets, good for the summer season, may be purchased at excursion rates at all places in the eastern part of the State.

Special Notice

Many of those who attended the session of 1903 have registered for this year. Only about as many more can be accommodated. If the number of applicants exceeds the accommodations, those applying first will be first considered for admission.

It seems desirable to have it understood by all who contemplate attending this school that it is a real school, established and supported by the State for the professional training of those who are now or expect to be teachers in the State. It is, in fact, a State normal school, and is administered on that basis.

Students are expected to conform to such simple regulations as seem to the faculty desirable for the proper management of the school. A few regulations have been found necessary in connection with the dormitory, so that those who desire to study evenings may have some quiet, uninterrupted hours for the same.

The principal will be glad to answer any inquiries which are not answered in this circular.
